CBI, CVC and other Governmental Investigating Agencies like that of Government servants;

(c) if not, what is the procedure and practice of conducting investigation into the wrongful activities of such teaching staff in the public interest to ensure discipline among them; and

(d) whether CBI etc. could register cases against them and prosecute them under Criminal Procedure Code, Indian Penal Code etc.?

THE MINISTER OF HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT (SHRI ARJUN SINGH): (a) to (d) According to the information furnished by the University of Delhi, the terms and conditions of service and conduct of teachers of Delhi Colleges, including Principals and Vice-Principals, are governed by Ordinance XII of the Ordinances of the University and the Agreement of Service for College teachers annexed thereto. These, inter-alia provide that with the prior approval of the Vice-Chancellor, the Governing Body of a College is entitled to terminate the services of a teacher for mis-conduct and for good cause after giving three months' notice in writing or payment of three months' salary in lieu of notice. However, before doing so the Governing Body shall inform the concerned teacher, in writing, of the ground on which such action is proposed to be taken and give him a reasonable opportunity of stating his case.

According to the information furnished by Ministry of Law, the teaching staff of Delhi Colleges is covered by the definition of 'Public Servant' for the purpose of the Prevention of Corruption Act, 1988 and are, therefore, liable to be prosecuted for offences committed under this Act. However, as the University has not yet accepted the jurisdiction of the CVC, the latter is not in a position to investigate complaints against teachers of Delhi Colleges.

Teachers of Delhi Colleges are subject to the laws of the land like other citizens of the country. Criminal offences committed by them can be investigated by the Police. CBI can also investigate cases in accordance with procedure laid down in this regard.
